WHO AM I?

I am a creator of enthusiastic, collaborative, and playful art. I believe the human tendency "to sell" is worth calling out as pure absurdity, and one might as well wait for Godot. We desire to move or be moved, and so I believe we must always be ready to move. Thus, I am a problem solver, a communicator, and an entrepreneur; one who loves to laugh and smile. My approach is relational, strategic, and visual. I desire collaboration and innovation with a meaningful outcome. Forever a student, I strive to always learn the best skills necessary to thrive and make each project expressive.
